

Corey McCabe

Professional Learning Administrator (Systems and Evaluation)

Corey McCabe is the Professional Learning Administrator at Corwin Australia. He is responsible for various behind-the-scenes administrative tasks for the PL team and other internal stakeholders.

Corey is responsible for the provision of evaluation tools, online courses and some of the logistical planning around workshops. However, if a query is not in his purview, he can likely direct you to the right person!

He also maintains the Professional Learning Team webpage, and occasionally speaks about himself in the third person.
