

Ivan McLean

Professional Learning Consultant

Ivan has worked in secondary schools in Australia and internationally for almost 30 years, and for almost 20 of those years as a Head of Middle and/or Senior School. Whilst at the Australian International School of Malaysia he helped lead the successful certification and recertification processes as the school became the first Visible Learning Accredited School in the world. He is particularly passionate about developing the most effective visible learners and leaders, be they staff or students, with a global, growth outlook.

Ivan's influence extends to educators and non-educators alike, ensuring that those involved in shaping our future leaders understand the complexities and realities of their decisions and impact.
