

Kerie Adamson

Professional Learning Leader

Kerie is a passionate educator and experienced system leader of teaching and learning with a demonstrated history of working effectively with school leadership teams and staff to achieve improved teaching and learning outcomes in the education sector. She is highly skilled in the strategic design and delivery of professional learning and teacher training through workshops, classroom modelling, coaching and mentoring.

Kerie stands strong in her belief that the key to achieving significant impact on learning is reliant upon students, teachers and leaders engaging in collaboration, reflective practice and goal setting with a mindset focused on collective efficacy.